Passion and Purpose of Your Courses:

I have developed a 3-step model: of aligning and integrating mindset, message and voice for powerful influential communication.

In these courses I aim to teach how you can use your speaking voice which is only the tip of the ice-burg to influence with Executive presence and emotional intelligence.

Working with by expanding your body and voice expression to speaking with confidence and intention to having empathy and EI to know how to engage with the needs of your audience and listeners.

The "Why" Your Business:

Intelligent speaking is a leadership quality, that requires service to go even beyond verbal words. Non verbal communication is 93% more powerful aspect of communication. I coach professionals and organisations, to raise mindful self awareness, receive feedback, listen before speaking, increase interpersonal skills, speak authentically and become dynamic speakers who can deeply connect even when conversations can be confronting.

My passion for empowering the human voice comes from the pain of watching disempowered people with great ideas and unique messages not be able to freely express themselves for the fear of rejection and not belonging. Voice tonality is non verbal communication and I have seen the impact of limited ability to influence and be clear all due to the lack of professional feedback.
